

It's easy. If your software knows how to kern, then it does all the work for you — no layering or aligning.

Pick any ornament that appears on a letter key, anything from A to Z. The uppercase version of the ornament represents the fill and the corresponding lowercase represents the outline.

Just type your pair with a space between them with the capital first. (That's "A a" from Ciao Bella Flowers.)

Then color each character however you like.

Remove the space between them and the two drawings will snap together like magic!
